Question 3

Rizal is the auditor of the Reema Industries Bhd. He is considering the audit work to be performed in the accounts payable area for the current year engagement.

The prior year working papers show that confirmation requests were mailed to 200 of Reema's 2,000 suppliers. The selected suppliers were based on Rizal's samples, which was designed to select accounts with large balances. A substantial number of hours were spent by Reema and Rizal in resolving relatively minor differences between the confirmation replies and Reema's accounting records. Alternative audit procedures were used for suppliers who did not respond to the confirmation requests.

Required:

- (a) Discuss the accounts payable audit objectives that Rizal must consider in determining the audit procedures to be followed. (6 marks)
- (b) Discuss situations in which Rizal should use accounts payable confirmations, and discuss whether Rizal is required to use them. (7 marks)
- (c) Discuss why the use of large-value balances as the basis for selecting accounts payable for confirmation might not be the most efficient approach, and indicate the more efficient procedures that could be used to select accounts payable for confirmation. (7 marks)

Question 5

(a) For each of the following independent situations, indicate the reason for and the type of auditors' report that you would issue. Assume that each item is significant.

(i) You have been appointed as an auditor for Marlene Bhd the holding company and its subsidiaries. One of the subsidiary's financial statements was qualified by their auditor.

(2 marks)

(ii) Your client has incurred substantial losses in recent years and is unable to repay various bank loans which are falling due. The company's ability to continue as a going concern is in doubt.

(2 marks)

(iii) During your audit of Andrea Sdn. Bhd. the financial controller refuses to allow you to confirm accounts receivable because he is concerned about complaints from the customers. You are unable to satisfy yourself about accounts receivable by other audit procedures.

(2 marks)

(iv) You are auditing a pharmaceutical company and it was later found that the company is a defendant in a lawsuit involving a breach of contract. The legal counsel of the company indicates that the company is likely to be liable, but the company does not want to disclose this information in the financial statements.

(2 marks)

(v) Kenny Bhd. has used the reducing-balance method to depreciate its machinery. During the current year, the company switched to the straight-line method because they felt that it better represented the utilisation of the assets. You agree with their decision. All information is adequately disclosed in the financial statements.

(2 marks)
